The Italian consul at New Orleans, Certe, in his report to the Italian Government on the lynching there, says that the victims belonged to no society but were murdered simply because they were Italians and competitors in the labor market. The fellows' utterances are becoming monotonous. This is the only country in the world in which they would be tolerated.

HE WOULDN'T STAND IT.

A Wag's Wicked Work at a Christening.

Not long ago there was a private baptism in one of the leading families of this city.

A five-year-old youngster, known to his admiring relatives as "Bob" was to be the central figure of the ceremony. The clergyman was to wear his surplice, and the whole affair was to be full dress.

Hume Yerington, who lived near by, was one of the guests. About an hour before the ceremony he took the youngster on his knee and had a talk with him.

"They tell me you are to be baptized today."

"You bet," was the reply.

"Awful, ain't it?" continued Hume.

"How's that?" said the youngster in a suspicious tone.

"Oh, it's just awful; a man comes in with a big night-gown on, and carries you off to the mountains and leaves you all night with the bears."

Then he put the boy down and left him to his own reflections.

Presently the clergyman came in, and the boy on seeing him, set up a frightful howl and crawled under the piano. There was quite a scene.

His mother made a reach for him, but he got away and started up stairs. His grandfather started after him, and soon all hands were on the run, all after the boy, who was yelling like a house afire. He went under beds, over stoves, and finally plunged headlong into a bath tub half filled with water. His grandfather fished him out by the left leg, and after his clothes were changed he was borne struggling to the pastor, where he was baptized after the most approved fashion.

All the while the visage of Mr. Hume Yerington was full of melancholy, reverence and piety, and no one seemed to regret the occurrence as much as he.

Card.

I desire to call the attention of the public of Carson and vicinity to the fact that I have recently sold out my entire stock of drugs and the good will of the business to Mr. A. E. Harris, who will henceforth conduct said business, known as the "City Drug Store," opposite the Postoffice. I desire to thank the general public for their generous patronage in the past; and I bespeak for Mr. Harris a continuation of the same, believing that it will be to your mutual advantage.

I am, respectfully,
W. H. CHEDIC.

July 4th.

James Wiggins will give a grand ball at his dance hall in Empire on the night of the Fourth. An entirely new line of entertainment will be pursued; fireworks displayed at regular intervals, and a full dance orchestra engaged for the occasion. Plenty of stable room for teams, and Jim will endeavor to entertain all visitors.

The Fourth at Glenbrook.

There will be the usual Grand Celebration of the Fourth of July at Glenbrook. Boat Races, Games, etc., during the day. Fireworks in the evening followed by a ball at Pray's Hall.

A good time insured all who come.

Jack Frost.

Yesterday morning there was considerable agricultural proflaity in Carson valley and this vicinity. The frost hit the vegetables some terrible body blows in the night.

The potatoe crop was the worst sufferer. Where they were the most advanced they were leveled to the ground and left black.

This means a great set back to the potatoe crop, and spuds will be high this Fall.

The fruit was too far advanced to be injured.

Hit With a Beer Glass.

Zach Taylor has a large ruby spot on his forehead where he was recently hit with a beer glass. His version of the affair is that in attempting to handle a schooner he hit himself through awkwardness and lack of familiarity with the glass. No arrests.

Baseball.

The Comstocks' ball club are endeavoring to have the Fourth of July Committee hang up a purse of $150 or $200, to be contested for by the Virginia and Carson ball clubs.

The Carson club will play a practice game today at the old Silver State grounds in the Northwestern part of town. They have adopted "Emporium" as their names.

Dirigo Hotel.

The first thing a Nevada man does when he reaches Lake Tahoe is to go to the Dirigo Hotel kept by Mr. Jellerson, and get a square meal. He is better qualified to enjoy the beauties of the lake after that.

Examinations.

The public examination of the Carson Public Schools, for the year 1891, will take place as follows:

Monday, June 22, Miss Gill-coy's class.

Tuesday, June 23, Miss French's class.
